Defining Violence against Women

Violence against women is any act that results in, or is likely to result in, physical, sexual or psychological harm or suffering, including threats of such acts and coercion or arbitrary deprivation of liberty, whether in public or private life.

Violence against women includes:

- physical, sexual, psychological and economic violence,
- harassment or intimidation
- sexual abuse or rape, including marital rape
- battery
- domestic violence
- forced prostitution
- trafficking in women and girls
- burning or acid throwing
- female genital mutilation
- female feticide and infanticide
- violence in armed conflict
- systemic rape
- sexual slavery
- forced pregnancy
- forced marriage

True and False Statements

1. Globally, one in five women has experienced physical or sexual violence or abuse by a male.
2. Among women aged 15-44 years, gender-based violence accounts for more death and disability than the combined effects of cancer, malaria, traffic injuries and war.
3. Violence against women is usually perpetrated by strangers outside the home.
4. The economic costs of violence against women in British Columbia, including health care, policing, incarceration, court proceedings and transition houses, totals approximately one billion dollars per year.
5. 101,019 women and children were admitted to shelters across Canada between April 1, 2007 and March 31, 2008.
6. In Canada only 30 percent of women who have experienced physical violence and less than 10 percent of women who have experienced sexual violence report these offences to the police.
7. Over a five year period between 1994 and 1999 in Canada half a million children heard or witnessed a parent being assaulted.

Domestic dispute ends in injury, serious charges

By Jessey Bird Vancouver Sun July 30, 2007 Can West News Service

Windsor, Ont.—Neighbours quietly watched as a Windsor woman was taken away on Sunday evening, after her boyfriend allegedly ran her over with a mini-van—twice.

The 47-year-old accused male was arrested at the scene.

Police were called to a housing complex on Sunday at about 3:30 p.m. for a domestic disturbance.

The couple were arguing over a cellphone when the male allegedly hit his girlfriend with a mini-van, said police.

The victim was standing next to the car and the vehicle was reversing, said Staff Sgt. Steven Bodri, “As a result of him reversing he struck her and I guess she fell down.

“He then proceeded to drive, causing further injuries, said Bodri.

The 40-year-old victim was immediately transported to hospital with a suspected fractured leg and arm. While she is expected to make a full recovery, Bodri said police take this kind of offence very seriously. “Any domestic violence incidents are serious,” said Bodri. “This is an ongoing problem we have every day in the city and elsewhere in the province.”

Change Makers

Change Makers Believe:

- ❖ Violence against women is never acceptable
- ❖ Change in current gender perceptions and attitudes is essential and possible
- ❖ Violence against women is a public issue, not a private matter
- ❖ Each individual has the potential to change her or his own life
- ❖ Change must begin now

What Do Change Makers Do?

- ❖ Initiate and encourage discussion about gender inequality and violence against women
- ❖ Act as role models of alternative behaviours
- ❖ Encourage others to recognize the various forms of gender violence and discrimination
- ❖ Enlist the help of influential community members to create a positive environment and to reduce risks for women

How Can They Do This?

- ❖ Talk to friends, neighbours and colleagues to raise awareness about violence against women and encourage them to re-examine their own attitudes and practices
- ❖ Increase their own awareness about violence against women
- ❖ Disseminate campaign information
- ❖ Challenge existing gender biased attitudes, stereotypes and practices
- ❖ Take a public stand against violence against women
- ❖ Support women who are experiencing violence
